

TRANE ENERGY CHOICE ELECTRICITY PROCUREMENT

Our intelligence is your competitive advantage.

If you purchase electricity in a deregulated state, Trane® Energy Choice™ provides the market expertise and procurement resources to help you acquire the supply you need while minimizing your energy spend. Our large client portfolio, competitive bid process and market intelligence provide a strategic advantage during the purchase process.

Trane manages one of the largest natural gas portfolios in the U.S. on behalf of customers who consume billions of dollars in energy annually. We can do the same for you, too. Our Trane® Energy Choice™ procurement process is easy and puts you in control.

TO GET STARTED

- You supply three pieces of information:
- Your most recent utility invoice
- A copy of your current gas supply contract
- A completed Letter of Authorization (LOA)
- We conduct a formal RFP process with our natural gas supplier network.
- We summarize all supplier bids for you and present them to you with our recommendations.
- You decide which price, product and supplier best meets your needs, and we facilitate the execution of your contract.
- After the contract is signed, we provide ongoing energy market education, guidance and contract monitoring. There is no cost up front, and you will never receive an invoice from us.

WE'RE HERE FOR YOU

Look to Trane Energy Choice to help you keep abreast of natural gas opportunities. Your procurement needs will be managed by the industry's pre-eminent advisors on the natural gas market. Studying the complexities of the natural gas market, we can interpret data and provide you with actionable, easy-to-understand information to use in making insightful energy decisions.
